

Warrook Farm Tour

This unique hands-on farm tour has been delighting generations of visitors for decades. A perfect mix of 'hands on' and demonstrations of farming techniques staged against a background of true Aussie bush and historical farm buildings.

Daily farm tours are conducted at 11 am in the morning and 1 pm in the afternoon. Other tour times can be negotiated but minimum numbers apply to these tours.

Take a 'hop on, hop off' scenic wagon ride through the Australian bush with your Aussie Farmer Guide. You are surrounded by historic farm buildings, wildlife and wonderful eucalypt and pepper trees.

Billy Tea and Damper - an optional farm tour extra! Visitors can add a real Aussie flavour to their farm tour! Genuine billy tea and traditional damper over the open fire can be included! This unique experience must be pre-booked 24 hours in advance.

Feed baby Friesian calves with bottled milk in the historic Warrook dairy. Watch as they jostle for attention and suck milk from the bottle.

Get up close with Billy, the gentle Friesian bull. Give him a pat and pose for a 'farm barn' photo opportunity!

Learn how to milk a cow and try your skill at getting the milk to actually go into the bucket. Sit on a stool and learn the correct milking technique from the Farmer Guide.

Try your hand at cracking a whip in the great outdoors. The sound of a whip cracking is made when the whip flicks back so fast that it breaks the sound barrier!

Meet the working farm dog, a real Australian Kelpie, and watch how fast he can round up sheep! A fully trained working dog runs very fast and can do the work of three men rounding up the sheep for the farmer.

Take a bird's eye view in the historic shearing shed built in 1887. Learn all about the shearing process and watch sheep being shorn. A shearer can shear between 150-200 sheep per day, earning around $2.80 per sheep shorn.

See the fleece thrown onto the sorting table, learn how wool is graded and the difference between Merino and crossbred sheep. Rub the wool and feel the soothing effects of natural lanoline on your hands.
